THE HAMPTONS

THE DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM

I

William Hampton

Born 1630 in England, planter, came to Jamestown, Virginia in 1620 on ship "Bona Nova". He settled in Elizabeth City near present town of Hampton, not named for him. In 1631, his wife Joan and three children joined him, coming over over in the ship "Abigail". In 1640 he claimed his head rights for transportation of himself, his wife and three children, and eight other persons, one of whom was his sister, Philadelphia Hampton. Accordingly, he was granted a tract of 500 acres on Eastermost River in Elizabeth City County, later Gloucester.

At that time land in Virginia could not be held in fee simple. After the law permitted the holding of land by private individuals, William Hampton took out patents for about 1300 acres of land from the King and also purchased from private individuals. He moved into the County of Gloucester, where he built his home, which continued in the family until 1745. He made his will in 1682; date of death unknown.

Note— the sons and daughters were listed separately and so are not in the order of birth.

There is a family tradition that Ann (Hampton) Collins, widow of Robert Collins who married Daniel Northup in 1777, was from an east Virginia family, and a cousin of Wade Hampton. This has not been verified. If Ann were a cousin of Wade, she is the daughter of John2, Henry, James, or Thomas Hampton who were born probably about 1780-1790, in Fairfax County Va. (Then called Halifax).
Any information in regard to the children of these four Hamptons will be highly appreciated by the compiler of these data. While it is said that Ann (Hampton) Collins was born Sept 21 1759, and married Daniel Northup in 1777, it seems probable that one or both dates are in error, as she would be only eighteen when married the second time.
