seven younger children were all under age in 1821, and I have no data of them, except of Robert, who removed to Pittsburg, where he became wealthy as a merchant. He had one son, Robert, Jr., who was a captain in the Union army, and during the war called to see his Faquier cousins.

4. John Hampton, eldest son of William Hampton, was married several years before he was of age; in fact, had his third wife at the age of twenty-seven. He died at the age of thirty-two in 1826. His appraisement dated September 26, 1826, amounted to $6,794.55, and included eighteen negroes, a great deal of live stock, household furniture, which included silver tableware and tablecloths, and soup ladle, forty-two books, etc.

His granddaughter, Mrs. A. R. Bartenstein, Warrenton, Va., says that John Hampton married a Miss Hunt, by whom he had issue a son, Silas Hunt, who died of tuberculosis in 1857, and a daughter, Eliza Brent, who likewise died of consumption between 1857-58. He married secondly Eliza Brent (was not his daughter, Eliza Brent, probably a daughter of this wife?), and for the third time, May 6, 1821, to Susan Fowke John. Mrs. Bartenstein’s grandmother, by whom he had issue two daughters, Mary F. and Catharine F. Hampton.

In the Colonial Families of the Southern States, Miss Stella Pickett Hardy says that John Hampton married Hannah Neale Hunt, daughter of Colonel Eppa and Elizabeth Mary Brent Hunt, but this is hardly possible if the dates of birth of Colonel and Mrs. Hunt are correct as she gives them, viz., Colonel Hunt in 1757, and Elizabeth M. Brent in 1792, and their marriage in 1781. John Hampton’s wife may have been a sister of Colonell Eppa Hunt, instead of his daughter.

The third wife, Susan Fowke Johnston, was a daughter of Wilfred Johnston, who married on September 29, 1756, Mary Peyton, daughter of Henry Peyton and his wife, Susannah Fowke, daughter of Captain Chandler and Mary T. Fowke, of “Gunning Hall,” etc. See “Henderson’s Virginia Genealogies.”

Mary Frances Hampton, daughter of John and Susan J. Hampton, married Thomas E. Clipstein, of Faquier and had issue Hunt, William Clipstein, married Martha G. Rice; Kate Hampton Clipstein, married John T. Hays; Sally Ball Clipstein, married Andrew R. Bartenstein, for a number of years clerk of Faquier county, and Eliza Peyton Clipstein, married Andrew Reinhart.

2. Thomas Richard Hampton, second son of William Hampton and Mary S. Hampton, born in 1766, appears several times in the deed records of Faquier, in the last twenty years before he died from his father’s will, all on the farm of Abner Hampton, for twelve acres of land and house where T. R. H. then lived, November 2, 1851. January 24, 1857, Thomas Richard Hampton was married to Eliza Metcalfe Pickett. They had issue four sons—James W., Thomas F., Silas Wade and Henry. James William Hampton died in Faquier without issue. Thomas F. Hampton, eldest son, born in 1824, married his first cousin, Eliza Metcalf Dave, born 1823, daughter of Philo P. Dave and Patsy Winn Pickett, his wife. She was a daughter of Captain James Sanford Pickett (War of 1812), of “Fruit Farm,” Loudoun county. Thomas F. Hampton removed to Chattanooga, Tenn., where he and his wife died. They had issue Foster H., Henry Hampton, living in 1889 at Hill City, Chattanooga, and Ann Hampton. Henry Hampton was a major in the Confederate Army. Silas Wade Hampton, was living in 1888 at a son, John Steele Hampton, at 1413 Court Street, Memph’s, Tenn.

Dr. Henry Hampton, Dr. Henry Hampton, second son of Henry Hampton, of Helena, Prince William county, and his first wife, who was probably a Miss Preston or a Miss Cary, according to some traditions, was born in 1750 in Prince William county, Va., and died in July, 1838, in his eighty-sixth year. He died while sitting in the summer house in the garden of his son, Dr. Anthony Hampton, on the Virginia side of the Big Sandy River, in what is now Wayne county, about seven miles above the mouth of the river. He is buried in the family graveyard at that place, and his grave is said to be marked by a stone.

Dr. Hampton’s grandson, William Hampton, Esq., of Catlettburg, Ky., who was born in 1808, and therefore twenty-six years old when his grandfather died, says in some memo and of the Hampton family which he wrote out before he died in 1887: “Dr. Hampton was classically educated, of fine personal appearance, handsome, and a man of great intellectually. He practiced medicine successfully, and was surgeon in the War of the Revolution.”

He inherited half of his father’s lands in Prince William county, and Kannaway county (later Cabell), and seems to have lived in his native county until October 2, 1789, when he sold his home place of 228 acres in Prince William to Drummond Wheeler, and removed to Faquier county, where he continued to live, and practice medicine until the year 1800, when he removed his family to the soldiers’ claim lands on the Ohio, part of which are now in the city of Huntington, W. Va. December 8, 1789, he purchased from his brother, William Hampton, and wife, Fanny, his half of the lands on the Ohio for $200. Dr. Hampton built a substantial home near, where Marshall College now stands, on the upper end of Huntington, about two miles below the Guyando River. Between 1800 and 1818 Dr. Hampton purchased about 1,000 acres of land. In addition to his 500 acres from his father and brothers.

His descendants are very positive that he served in the Revolution as a surgeon or assistant surgeon, and that his original discharge from the army was in existence a few years ago. The records of the Revolution at Richmond and Washington show the service of a Cary Henry Hampton as a surgeon’s aide in Virginia, but no Henry in any part of the state. As I have not been able to find any mention of a Cary H. Hampton in any of the county records in Virginia where the Hampton lived, I am of the opinion that Dr. Cary Henry Hampton and Dr. Henry Hampton were on the same person.

Dr. Hampton was married in 1778 to an unknown woman, in Fairfax county, by an Episcopal clergyman, but the loss of parish registers marriage bonds precludes any exact data of this, unless the family Bible should turn up. They had issue: William Hampton, born in 1772, died in 1819 in Cabell county, Va.
Anthony Hampton, M. D., died in Cabell county after 1835.
Henry Hampton, Jr.
Richard Hampton.
Ellen Hampton, married George Hollenback, of Cabell county, and had three sons.
Richard Hampton, the youngest son, married a Miss Henry, and had a daughter and one son named George M. Hampton, who lived at Moresbield, Ky., and represented Bath county in the State Legislature and Senate for two or three terms. No other data.
Henry Hampton, Jr., was married in Cabell December 17, 1815, to Jane Thompson. They removed from the county, and were lost sight of by the rest of the connection.
Dr. Anthony Hampton is said to have had an excellent education, and "had a wonderful practice," and was called from Louisa to Canvas in Kentucky, and for miles around in Virginia. He was said to have been a most excellent physician.
Rev. Ezra C. Thornton preached Dr.
Hampton's funeral sermon, although he was a Methodist and Dr. Hampton was a Baptist, but both were Masons, which order conducted the service.
He died of cholera.
He lived at "Jake's Creek," on the Virginia side of Big Sandy, where he owned a fine farm.
His wife was Susannah Love, and they had issue: Preston, Columbus, and a daughter, Columbus. He married December 10, 1815, Corn-malone Wilson in Cabell county; William Henry Hampton, youngest son, died unmarried in the asylum at Lexington, Ky.; Olivia Hampton, married September 4, 1822, to Thomas E. Hander-ley. Dr. Hampton had two other dughters, whose names I have not found.
William Hampton, eldest son of Dr.
Henry and Elizabeth P. Hampton, born in Presbyterian Church in 1778, was married in the "winter of 1813" to Malinda Shorridge, daughter of Colnel George and Margaret Mulir Shor-rige, who were married near Alexandria, Va. He moved with his family to Harrodsburg, Mercer county, Ky., where they lived until 1803. In 1802 he removed his family to a large farm on the Kentucky side of Blackwater River, above the mouth of the river. Colonel Shorridge was a son of John Shorridge, of Fairfax county, and is said to have served in the War of the Revolution, and in Kentucky against the Indians.
His wife, Margaret Muir, was a dauter of John and Karonhappuck Muir of Fairfax county. She had brothers Robert, George, John, Je, and sister Elizabeth. James Muir died in 1880, leaving a personal estate appraised at $2,757.58, but the large value of the various items was due to the depreciating currency at that time. One item in this shows that "folding beds are not of as late origin as is commonly thought, as he owned "one painted folding up bedstead" valued at $46. Besides other pieces of furniture are mentioned a silver watch valued at £50, silver seal, one pair silver knee buckles and three pairs of silk knee garters, a pair of silver shoe buckles, four books, pictures, a stone set stock buckle, a large quantity of clothing, including four suits of clothes, one a blue and buff uni-tom; a "Freemason's Medal," etc; one pair spectacles. He left his estate to his mother, father, brother George and godson Robert Adam Martin. John Muir died in 1829 and left all his estate to sister Elizabeth Muir. George Muir died in 1784, and his inventory mentions a silver watch, silver knee buckles, and silver wrist buckles, which were probably those he inherited from his brother James in 1786.
After his marriage, William Hampton bought land in the amount of 296 acres on the Virginia side of Big Sandy, opposite the home of his father-in-law. Here he dIED in November, 1818, leaving the following children: Wade Hampton, born in December, 1804; died in 1844, in California.
George Shortridge Hampton, born 1806; died in Des Moines, Ia., in 1878.
William Hampton, born in 1808; died in 1857 at Catlettsburg, Ky.
Henry Hampton, M. D., born in 1810; died at Pasadena, Cal., in 1888.
Levi J. Hampton, killed in United States Army in 1845.
Eliza M. Hampton, married Greenville Hutchinson, and removed to Missouri in 1868. Had sons David and Henry.
Edi Hampton and Louisa Hampton, both of whom died in infancy.
Descendants of William and Malinda Hampton:
Wade Hampton, eldest son, married April 3, 1830, his cousin Sally Brown, daughter of Richard Brown, and had a son; Columbus.和 a daughter, Columbia. In 1847 they removed to Santa Fe, New Mexico, and in 1859 to Caliifornia, where Wade Hampton died in 1894, at the great age of ninety years.
George Shortridge Hampton, second son, was a lawyer, and during the war was on General Rosecrans's staff. He removed from Kentucky to Iowa, and settled at Des Moines, where he was United States land agent for a number of years. He died in 1885, at the age of seventy years. He was mar-ned twice, first to Sally Johnson, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., where they lived until 1855. He married second Mrs. Anne F. Hepburn, daughter of William Cattlett, of Catlettsburg, Ky., and had issue, a son, by first marriage, and by first marriage sons George and Columbus, and daughter Catherine.
William Hampton, third son, owned a very handsome place on the Kentucky side of Big Sandy. In 1830 he bought of Andrew H. Jones.
William and Sarah Buchanan Hampton are now owned by Mrs. J. L. Miller, Thomas, West Virginia.
William and Sarah Hampton had issue, seven sons and six daughters, the following: George Shortridge Hampton, William Oliver Hampton, Joseph W.
Hampton (died unmarried), Eliza M.
Hampton (died unmarried), John Warren (died unmarried), Charles W.
Hampton, Charles H. Hampton, and James H. Hampton, of whom later Dr. Henry of sable and burgundy, and was a brother of William E. Jackson's horse artillery, in which he served. He was also a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and a prominent lawyer, jurist, and member of the Kentucky Legislature, etc., and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and a prominent lawyer, jurist, and member of the Kentucky Legislature, etc., and Mrs. Ireland was a daughter of Joseph and Sarah Buchanan Hampton. He was a wealthy merchant and timberman of Catlettsburg, Ky. At the beginning of the war he entered the Thirty-ninth Ky. Volunteers, was adjutant, and was killed in the battle of Prestonville, Ky., in 1862. His wife was Elizabeth Henderson, who had issue, Alice, Julia, Amelia, Mary, Lizzie, Minnie and Mildred. He was a lawyer, and the latter became the clerk of Lewis county, Ky. John W. and Louise Virginia Ireland Hampton had issue, two children, who grew to maturity—William Ireland Hampton, a prominent lawyer, and Sarah Ireland, who became a member of one of the largest cattle firms at Fort Worth, Texas, and her husband, Edmund, was a prominent lawyer and contractor. He married Mrs. Ireland, and had issue, Edmund, married Sarah Burns; John, married Betty Berry; Elizabeth, married Harry Hager; James M., married William Howard; Kate and Charles, Jr., and had issue, William and Sarah Buchanan Hampton, married Dr. William Allen Barnett, of Catlettsburg, Ky., and had issue, Sarah, married William Frank, and Wade Hampton Barnett, M. D., of Franklin, Tenn. All are now dead.

Sarah Hampton, married prior to 1750, the son of Henry Hampton, Sr., of Prince William county, Va., and had issue, John Brown, Richard Brown (father of Judge George N. Brown, of Catlettsburg, Ky.), Dr. Benjamin Brown, and Sarah Brown.
