My dear Dr. Miller:

I am enclosing letter from Miss Gartley which is self explanatory. I understand that you have more information concerning the Hampton family than anyone else, and hope that you will be able to give this lady the information that she desires. If so, kindly write me or her, and, if you have not the information, simply advise me and I will advise Miss Gartley.

Very truly yours,

The Second Annual HOMECOMING AND DOLLAR DAY RALLY
of the CATLETTSBURG M.E. CHURCH, SOUTH
Sunday, August 2, 1936.

To all the Members, Former Members and Friends of the Catlettsburg Church, GREETINGS.

You are cordially invited to attend our great Home-coming service on Sunday, August 2nd, at 10:45 O'clock A.M.

The Rev. Charles A. Slaughter, D.D., our former Pastor, Presiding Elder and long-time Friend, will preach the sermon. We are very fortunate to have Brother Slaughter and feel sure that you will welcome the opportunity to hear him again in the pulpit of the old Church of hallowed memories and to renew the happy associations of other days.

Please use the enclosed envelope in which to make your Thank- Offering.
This will be applied on our Benevolent Apportionments for the year. We are nearing the end of the year and are anxious to have a full report.
We must not break our good record.

Please come if possible. We want you. Tell others about the service and invite them to come with you. Alright! All together for a great day with one another and the Lord in the old Church we all love.

Cordially yours,

A. P. Keyser, Pastor
S. M. Field, Chmn. Board.

LEGACY OF A LIFE.

Beautiful Tributes Paid to Memory of Late Jas. H. Brown

IN FUNERAL ADDRESS DELIVERED BY DR. J. C. BARK.

Remains of Distinguished Dead Condolled to Earth Among Tombs of Friends Who Preceded Him.

The funeral of the late Judge James H. Brown, who died Sunday evening, occurred yesterday morning. Services were held at 10 o'clock at the Hanawha Presbyterian church, of which the deceased had been an honored member and a ruling elder for many years.

The impressive services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. H. Merrill, assisted by Rev. J. C. Barr, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and closed with prayer by Rev. T. G. Johnson of the Baptist church.

The services were very largely attended by those who desired to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. The interment took place at Spring Hill cemetery. A large number also followed the remains to their last resting place.

The honorary pall bearers were Dr. Cotton, Dr. J. M. Stoneman, Dr. J. P. Hale, Dr. A. E. Summers, Dr. J. H. Rogers, Major T. L. Brown, Judge H. C. McWhorter and C. C. Lewis, Sr.

The active pall bearers were: ex-Gov. MacCorkle, Malcolm Jackson, J. D. Barnes, S. S. Greene, ex-Governor E. W. Wilson, George E. Price, D. C. Gallaher, and E. W. Knight.

The services consisted of funeral addresses by Mr. Merrill and Dr. Barr. The remarks of the former were very impressive, containing a glowing tribute to the character and life of the deceased, and dwelling especially upon the great influence and power for good exercised by the noble example he set. He was followed by Mr. Barr, the venerable pastor of the First Presbyterian church, whose long and intimate acquaintance with Judge Brown rendered his remarks especially appropriate.

Dr. Barr said in part:

"Dr. BARR'S REMARKS.

"Every one that is born must die, but death itself has been devoted by an unchangeable decree, to be destroyed by life. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death."

"Jesus the Lord and Giver of Life and faithful servant; enter into the joy of thy Lord."

ADMIER OF BISHOP BASCOM

Was Judge Brown — Interesting Memorandum Left in Biography.

The late Judge J. H. Brown was an admiral of the Rev. Dr. Henry Biddleman Bascom, late bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, under whom he was a student at Augusta college, Ky. On the fly-leaves of a volume on the life of Bishop Bascom which is in his library he has left an interesting reminiscence of the eminent divine. In the course of the memorandum he says:

"In 1838-40 I was at Augusta college, Ky., having been several years previously at Marietta College. O. Graduated in the fall of 1840. Was in the class of Prof. Bascom in all the course taught by him. Also in the class of President Tomlinson, Prof. Trinkle and McConn, for all of whom I had the highest regard and respect. Prof. Bascom, and President Tomlinson especially amounting to admiration."

"The memorandum, which covers four pages in a closely written hand, is dated Dec. 27, 1890."
On Thursday, [date] was the occasion of a Festival, which was held in the Masonic Hall, [location]. The occasion was a celebration of the Magnanimity and Character of [name], who was a beloved member of the community. The festival included a parade, speeches, and a grand ball. The event was well attended, with many of the [location] residents in attendance. The speeches were delivered by [names], who spoke highly of [name] and his contributions to the community. The evening concluded with a grand ball, where attendees enjoyed dancing and socializing. The festival was a resounding success, and was a fitting tribute to the memory of [name].

HIS MAGNANIMITY.

Another remarkable trait of his character was magnanimity towards his fellow men. He was a man of deep, strong convictions, and he was independent in expressing them. He held to his settled principles with a principle of his own. But however warmly you opposed him; or contested any principle with him; it never made a slight change in his feelings towards you, or in everything except the point of difference, he was as kind and cordial as genial as if no point of difference existed. He never held a grudge. He never cherished feelings of resentment. In his manly dignity and Christian spirit, he rose above every thing of the kind. If I had time, without protracting this service too long, I could mention other traits of character which combined with these, gave him a noble personalit— a personality which lay back of his words and gave him weight of influence wherever he was known.

"His godly life and pure Christian character, so long and so well maintained, leave no doubt that he has entered into his rest. He loved the Sabbath and observed it strictly. And it was in the sacred quiet and stillness of the day that he loved that his spirit entered upon the day of the eternal Sabbath. As he met his Master whom he had followed so long on earth, he doubtless welcomed him with the blessed words: Well done thou good
